

SENATE GIVEN UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF BILL

HOUSE AWAITS VOTE ON OHIO'S NEW BEER BILL

"Three Point Two" Measure Is Approved By Senate

EMERGENCY PLAN GIVEN 25-6 VOTE

90 Ballots Required For Similar Action In Lower Branch

(By Associated Press)
BULLETIN
COLUMBUS, O., March 28—Legislative leaders today decided to recess the Ohio general assembly Thursday, until May 15.

COLUMBUS, March 28—Given a rousing send-off by the senate, Ohio's "three point two" beer bill was speeding toward enactment by the house of representatives today. The senate accepted the measure last night by a vote of 25 to 6, and sent it to the house. Under suspension of the rules, the house immediately sent it to the judiciary committee. It probably will be recommended to the house this afternoon, with a vote scheduled for Wednesday.

Passes as Emergency
The senate passed the bill as an emergency and if the house does likewise, it will become effective as soon as approved by Gov. White. Sale of 3.2 beer then could start on April 7 when the amended Volstead act becomes effective.

While it generally is conceded that the bill will have greater difficulty in getting through the house as an emergency measure than it did in the senate, its friends insist the required 90 votes to make it an emergency will be forthcoming. Eighty-three votes is the greatest number any anti-prohibition measure has received so far in the house. This number was given the Smolka-McCrystal resolution submitting a constitutional amendment to repeal state constitutional prohibition.

Should the bill fail to receive 90 votes in the house it would not become effective until 90 days after its approval by the governor. Should a referendum be demanded during the 90-days period its effectiveness

The "Ideal Vamp"

Known as the "girl who never smiles," Loni Nest, 19-year-old German girl, was recently chosen by a jury of French artists and movie critics as Europe's "ideal vamp" and a potential Garbo. A brilliant future is predicted for Frauline Nest, who, say the critics, has a more potent "come-hither" than the great Greta.

OHIO'S NEW BEER PLAN OUTLINED

Places Complete Control Under Commission of Seven Members

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., March 28—As passed by the senate as an emergency measure, the beer bill provides:

Amendment of the Crabbe act to permit sale of 3.2 per cent beer. Places control of all sales and manufacture of beer under control of state commission of seven members. Gives the commission authority to prohibit or permit sales to minors on Sundays and election days. Authorizes municipalities, parts of municipalities, townships and parts of townships to hold local option elections on petition of 35 per cent of the voters to determine whether beer can be sold; also limits such elections to one in three years.

Imposes a tax of $1 per barrel on all beer sold within the state. Licenses for breweries and wholesalers at an annual fee of $1,000 for the first 5,000 barrels and five cents per barrel for all over that amount. Licenses for hotels, restaurants, clubs and amusement parks to sell at tables only at $100 a year, and retail stores to sell bottled goods by the case only, not to be drunk on the premises, at $50 a year. Prohibits any person having an interest in a brewery or in the wholesale distribution of beer from having an interest in any establishment where beer is retailed.

GARDEN CLUBS OF DISTRICT TO MEET IN SALEM

Local Unit to Entertain Members of Youngstown Forum

JUNE SESSION IS SCHEDULED HERE

Landscape Gardener gives Talk on "Planning Your Garden"

The Salem Garden club will entertain the clubs which make up the Youngstown Garden forum in June. The decision to give this invitation to the forum was made by members of the local club at a meeting Monday afternoon at Memorial building.

28 Clubs In Forum
Twenty-eight clubs comprise the forum, including those of Youngstown, Salem, Warren, Poland, Lowellville and Canfield. Sessions of the forum are at 1:30 p. m. on the second Wednesday of the month and are open to any member of the Salem club who can attend.

Mrs. L. P. Metzger and Mrs. C. R. Votaw, president and treasurer, respectively, reported the March meeting of the forum at yesterday's session.

Webb Mulford, member of the club, a landscape gardener, gave the first of a series of talks on "Your Garden—How to Plan It." Mulford gave splendid suggestions for planning a formal garden. He said "The success of our garden depends on how much our families and friends use it. Our environment has much to do with our everyday lives."

Mrs. Esther Odecan sang beautifully, "The Morning Wind." The words of this song by Kendall Banning were set to music by Gena Brandson.

Discusses Perennials
Mrs. Lyle B. Harris, who lives near Lisbon, gave the concluding talk of a series on "Perennials." These talks have been helpful and instructive to the members.

A "perennial" contest will feature the April meeting, climaxing Mrs. Harris' talks. Mrs. Harris will bring 50 perennial plants, which she has told about during her talks, and the member who can name the most of them will be awarded the plants.

Announcement was made that the April meeting of the Garden club of Ohio will be held in Toledo. A number of members of the Salem club are members of the Ohio club.

Imhoff Is Given Committee Place On Foreign Affairs

Congressman Lawrence E. Imhoff of St. Clairsville Monday was elected a member of the foreign affairs committee of congress, to fill a vacancy. The election was made by the congressional ways and means committee.

In order to be eligible to accept membership on this committee Imhoff resigned his membership on three other committees to which he had been assigned. The foreign affairs committee is a major committee and exclusive, as a member serving on it cannot serve on any other committee.

The foreign affairs committee deals with many affairs affecting foreign governments, such as naval strength, boundary lines, protection of citizens abroad, extradition, treaty, rights of fishermen, declaration of war, immigration, and necessarily brings the members in close touch with the foreign embassies, the state department and the President.

Imhoff now has the place on the committee formerly held by Charles West, the only Ohio member elected to the ways and means committee. He was able to secure this election through the influence of Speaker Rainey and friends on the ways and means committee.

YOUNG NEW YORK GIRL STRANGLED

Six-Year-Old Child Found Dead in Basement; Sent There on Errand by Her Mother

NEW YORK, March 28—Sudden and violent death which has been the fate of several other children in Brooklyn cellars struck down little Barbara Wiles today as she went to the dark basement of her humble home to do the bidding of her mother.

Barbara, who was six years old, was asked by her mother to go to the cellar of the six family apartment house where the Wiles family live to bring up the baby carriage of her little brother.

Fifteen minutes later the little girl had not returned, and her mother went to the top of the cellar stairs to see what caused the delay. At the foot of the stairs she saw the body of her daughter dead, a cord twisted about her neck.

The Wiles live a mile or so from where five year old Florence McDennell was found strangled in the basement of a vacant store a year ago and where six year old Helen Sterler was murdered in the cellar of her home early this year.

PLANE'S PLUNGE TAKES 15 LIVES

Ship, Bound from Cologne To Croydon, Drops In Flames

(By Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 28—Fifteen persons were killed today in the wreck of an Imperial Airways passenger liner near Essen. Eleven of the victims were English.

The plane, bound from Cologne to Croydon, England, by way of Brussels, was the tri-motored "City of Liverpool."

She carried twelve passengers and a crew of three. All perished when the ship crashed in flames. No Americans were aboard.

The cause of the accident was not immediately determined. The plane had stopped at Haeren airdrome on the outskirts of Brussels. The crash occurred less than 20 miles north of Dixmude.

Assistance arrived quickly, but too late to help the victims. The burned bodies of the pilot, mechanic and four passengers, one of them a woman, were recovered from the wreckage.

Persons who saw the ship fall said it burst into flames and dropped in a field, like a spent rocket. The bodies of four of the dead were found at some distance from the plane. Apparently they had jumped.

Jews Throughout World Watching Hitler Situation

(By Associated Press)
After a day of mass protest, Jews throughout the world watched today the situation of their brethren in Germany, where the government launched an "anti-Jew campaign."

Alleged mistreatment of Jews in the Reich was protested at meetings last night in many parts of the world. In New York more than 22,000 packed Madison Square garden, and there was an overflow crowd of many thousands.

Alfred E. Smith, addressing this meeting, said Jews are "a peace-loving class of citizens that have been helpful to every country they inhabit" and declared the only thing to do with anti-Semitism "is to drive it out in the open sunlight and give it the same treatment we gave the Ku Klux Klan."

Twenty Jewish physicians were ousted last night from Berlin hospitals. Chancellor Hitler's Javis announced a move to boycott Jewish business in Germany in answer to foreign threats of boycotts against German goods.

BANKING COMMITTEE APPROVES PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, March 28—The administration's bill to create a $500,000,000 unemployment relief fund was reported to the senate today by its banking committee for consideration immediately following the Roosevelt reforestation measure.

The committee gave unanimous approval to the bill at about the time debate began on President Roosevelt's plan to put 250,000 men to work in the nation's forests. A final vote was expected by nightfall on the latter measure.

Predicts Approval
Senator Wagner, (D., N. Y.) one of the sponsors of the $500,000,000 bill said it would be taken up for consideration by the senate immediately after the reforestation measure. He predicted its approval by the end of the week.

The bill would permit the federal government to make direct grants of relief funds to states, instead of

Mother, Daughter Rescued by Police

LORAIN, March 28—Caught in a mud-bank and in danger of being drawn under the surface to suffocate, a mother and a five-year-old girl were rescued last night by firemen after the woman had saved her five-year-old son.

Billy Stulgis, Jean Myers and Jack Myers were playing on the shore of the lake when Billy and Jean fell into the mud. Terrified by the steady suction, they started to scream and Jack ran to summon Mrs. William Stulgis.

But when the mother managed to pull Billy from the mud bank and she tried to save Jean and herself she found herself caught in a grip resembling that of "quick-sand."

Bank Conservators Given More Power

WASHINGTON, March 28—Broader powers by conservators operating state and national banks was granted today by Secretary Woodin in a regulation issued under the president's bank holiday proclamation.

Under the new regulation, a conservator will have the authority to determine exactly how the bank will operate and if he believes it "condition warrants a withdrawal of a certain percentage of the deposits by the depositors he can order that permitted."

Thus in a case of a closed bank if the conservator believes it could operate with a 15 per cent restriction on withdrawals he would have authority to permit such withdrawals subject only to the president's proclamation prohibiting withdrawals of gold and money for hoarding.

Ohio Granted Loan

WASHINGTON, March 28—Ohio today was granted an emergency relief loan of $2,799,161 by the Reconstruction Corporation. The money is to be used in 22 political subdivisions during April.

loaning money as under the Hoover administration.

The committee voted to limit to 15 per cent of the total amount that any one state could receive, but to repeal this limitation on the $68,000,000 remaining in the Reconstruction corporation loan fund.

Repeal of this clause would permit Illinois, which has exhausted its quota, to obtain further money. Senate leaders plan to pass the bill by the end of the week in order to take care of Illinois.

Reforestation Bill Up
The Reforestation bill was formally taken up by the senate at the request of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader, although it was informally debated yesterday.

Robinson offered an amendment to repeal the 15 per cent limitation on the R. F. C. funds, to make sure that Illinois would be taken care of, even if action on the broader relief measure was postponed.

Debate on the proposal to give jobs to more than 200,000 men in the forests began in the senate about the same time that Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, said he had been informed the revised measure was satisfactory to President Roosevelt.

While the measure faces more apparent opposition in the house than in the senate, Byrns said that he expected it to be passed there tomorrow.

Chairman Connery of the house labor committee has announced that he would carry his opposition to the floor.

Tries to Blackmail Mrs. Lindbergh; Boy Arrested In Akron

AKRON, March 28—A crude attempt to blackmail Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, for $25,000 was thwarted today with the arrest of a 15-year-old Hudson high school boy whom Post Office Inspector Ernest D. Claggett described as "apparently a pretty bright kid."

The boy, Claggett said, readily admitted mailing two letters to the famous aviator's wife but said, "I don't know what I would have done with the money if I had got it. My father will kill me, though, when he hears of this."

He didn't know the Lindberghs' address "for sure," the boy said, so he addressed the letters to "Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, Delaware and New York," believing that if they lived in either state the missives would reach them.

One of the letters was mailed Feb. 27. It was snatched by post office inspectors here. The second, dated March 14, was intercepted by Washington postal authorities. Neither was seen by Mrs. Lindbergh.

Senate Probe Asked of Cleveland Banks

WASHINGTON, March 28—Representative Martin Sweeney (D. O.) told reporters today he would ask for a senate investigation of the banking situation in Cleveland. Sweeney will make the request to Senator Bulkeley as soon as Bulkeley returns from Ohio, where he went last night.

He said he felt affairs of the Union Trust company and the Guardian Trust company of Cleveland, both of which are now on a restricted withdrawal basis, should be included in the general investigation being conducted by the senate stock market investigating committee which recently studied the National City bank of New York.

Sweeney defined his chief purpose was to quiet ugly rumors which have reached him. He said that he had no further comment at this time and would have none pending Bulkeley's return.

Will Gets Offer

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., March 28.—Papers all state Hitler is trying to copy Mussolini. Looks to me like it's the Ku Klux that he is copying. He don't want to be emperor, he wants to be kingle.

But ain't it a relief to have a government over here that is going to let 'em solve their own troubles over there. I see where he is kinder toning down on his racial and religious hatreds. If he does, that guy is liable to come through at that.

You know nobody thought the Democrats could do anything either, when our old form of government was overthrown last fall. But the Democrats surprised not only the world, but themselves, and now every country is trying to borrow a gem Democrat to come and put 'em on their feet.

Mexico has already made me an offer. Yours,

HOPE FOR MOONEY

Thomas J. Mooney very easily might have been just another labor agitator with no more influence over popular opinion than the average run of his type. Instead, he was made a generalissimo of the restless army which fights endlessly against oppression, sometimes real and frequently fancied. He won his rank by the errors of California justice—justice which a vocal opinion in the United States and many other nations believes was made the tool of hysteria in a period when it was the fashion to squelch labor agitators.

The facts of the Mooney case are familiar history. The long struggle by Mooney and his friends to win an unconditional pardon by reason of evidence showing that Mooney and his accomplice, Warren K. Billings, were convicted on insufficient grounds is a necessary part of the background of all informed people. The case is a symbol of the clash between majorities and minorities when the former willfully suppress the latter. As long as Mooney goes without his pardon minorities in every part of the world will point to him as an example of what may happen in the United States when courts are made the tools of oppression.

The grant to Mooney of another day in court for trial on a murder indictment brought against him in 1916, but not previously used, is a development of international significance, therefore. Common sense warns against too much hope, but a great desire to see the Mooney case finally taken out of bitter dispute prompts hope, nevertheless. Mooney's countrymen realize that acquittal in the new trial promised may not bring him the unconditional pardon he demands, but there is a chance. Their vital interest in the case is reflected in their exaggerated conceptions of the likelihood of a pardon at this late date.

A queer situation is brought about by the fact that Mooney's fate in the hands of the California courts should be so much more hopeless than his fate in the hands of the public opinion which, it appears, originally convicted him of murder. California seems not to have forgotten how enraged it was in 1916 when the Preparedness day disaster occurred. It seems unwilling to give weight to facts disclosed since then—facts which warrant an unconditional pardon for Mooney. Time after time, it has blocked recurring channels of hope, but now there is to be another time. Is it possible that the state which has embarrassed the nation so acutely with its handling of this famous case yet may show the greater part of the wrong it tolerated?

JAPAN DECIDES

It will come as a surprise to many who supposed Japan already had withdrawn from the League of Nations to know that Emperor Hirohito's necessary approval of resignation was not given until Monday. The dramatic exit of the Japanese delegation from the league assembly when the final vote was taken on the Lytton report condemning Japanese policy in Manchuria is responsible for the misconception.

Actually, that withdrawal, though of tremendous importance, signified nothing more than opposition to the assembly's acceptance of the Lytton report. While it indicated clearly what was in the wind, it did not indicate a final decision to withdraw permanently. It merely paved the way for such a decision. Japan now has made up its mind. Unable to act within the league's provisions, it is willing to proceed independently with what it considers to be essential oriental policies.

Even so, it cannot withdraw immediately. Paragraph 3, Article 1 of the League of Nations convenant reads: "Any member of the league may, after two years' notice of its intention so to do, withdraw from the league, provided that all its international obligations and all its obligations under this covenant shall have been fulfilled at the time of its withdrawal."

In the wording of the provision there seems to be a great deal of interest to the international lawyers. It is failure of the Japanese government to fulfill its obligations which causes the notice of withdrawal to be given. It appears that the league is obligated to hold Japan to those obligations, yet it already has demonstrated its inability to do so. Apparently, the third paragraph of Article 1 was not written to accommodate a government planning withdrawal under conditions such as those which surround Japan.

In the light of these circumstances, it appears somewhat hasty to think of Japan as being outside the League of Nations before exclusion becomes an actual fact. The league cannot afford to lose its membership. Unfortunately, under the circumstances, Japan probably could get along very nicely without the league. Until it has been proved that there is no possibility of reconciliation, it is reasonable to anticipate a reunion before complete divorce.

What Others Say

ACTION

Now that the groundwork has been largely prepared for a revival of better times the thing which seems most necessary is for people to go out into the varied and multifarious channels of trade and become active.

Realization of this has impelled Charles Edison, son of the famous inventor, to urge employees of the Edison Co. to do something. His pithy, self-explanatory bulletin, posted where every worker would see it, is worthy of reproduction. It says:

President Roosevelt has done his part; now you do something. Buy something—buy anything, anywhere; paint your kitchen, send a telegram, give a party, get a car, pay a bill, rent a flat, fix your roof, get a haircut, see a show, build a house, take a trip, sing a song, get married. It does not matter what you do—but get going and keep going. This old world is starting to move.

Undoubtedly if the whole country would follow the advice of the younger Edison it would cause a revival everywhere and in almost every line—Ohio State Journal.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, March 9

The planetary auguries for this day appear to have conflicting force. There is a sign of progress, advancement, enhanced prestige and popularity, with a definite trend toward the goal of the ambitions. Yet it seems that these must be vigorously wrested from tenacious obstacles and impediments, with treachery, conspiracy and open hostility as well adding to the difficulties.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which there are auguries of some success, progress and gratified ambitions as well as portents of obstruction, delays and errors. A child born on this day should be ambitious, steady, but may possibly be moody and morbid.

Romance on Rocks

When this picture was made a few years ago it was serene in the house of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Warner (both above). The film actor has just filed suit in Hollywood to divorce Mrs. Warner, the former Rita Stanwood, actress, charging mental cruelty. The Warners were married in 1916.

The late and beloved Dwight Morrow was a little man with a big humor. Shortly before his passing, he was told that a certain man in Wall Street had it in for him. "I don't see why he should have it in for me," he said. "I don't remember doing anything for him."

Fred Keating, a deft and suave misanthrope with what Percy Hammond calls "a tarted tongue," recently proved himself one of the most finished light comedians of the day, in a Tallulah Bankhead play. Keating's versatility also includes several years of successful newspaper reporting.

Incidentally, Miss Bankhead's most redolent line was in a drawing-room scene when a hiccupy girl came lurching in with her clothes askew. "Probably hurried from a speeding car," she archly observed, after a quick glance.

Miss Bankhead's accent shows no trace of her deep Alabama origin. Rather, it is a combination of New York and London. It was a disappointment to Major Raymond Dickson who attended her premiere. "A great actress," he sighed, "but who had the crawl out of her?"

Likely it has been commented upon widely, but I have not noticed it—that is the similarity of Jimmy Walker's profile to Beatrice Lillie. It's startling.

Outside of Maury Paul, Harry

Bull, of Town and Country, is probably the best informed man in New York on who is who and why, in upper-case society. He is an authority on those who belong as far back as Edwardian times, as well as Gotham's present Mayfair. At his luncheons in his 73d street penthouse—likely the most select private luncheons in town—the French language predominates.

Most of my adult years, I have stifled a secret hanker to muss people's slick hair. Years ago, I used to turn on a heel, passing Frances White and whip down the impulsive leather coiffure and run like everything. Once, in a theater, I permitted, as though by accident, my overcoat to ruffle the sleek brush of Louis Calhern. It was deliberate. Today, I heard of a kindred soul in Bertram Weal, director of a fashionable hotel. He has an assistant hooter upon whom he sneaks, when the lobby of that shrine of proprieties is deserted and no one is looking, to give a Dutch rub and a necktie a fierce yank.

They were talking of that investment house whose victims included the hopelessly deaf, two in wheel chairs and a blind widow. Up spoke Henry Sell: "Wait until you hear the low down on still another. It specialized only in basket cases."

BOSTON—To pay a $310 bill, the Weeks Printing company, of Halifax, N. S., shipped 31,000 U. S. pennies, weighing about 260 pounds, in a stout wooden crate to Jacob Bloom & Company, of Boston. With the Canadian dollar quoted around 83 cents, the firm saved a substantial sum by using American pennies.

BOSTON—At a state house hearing on the question of repealing Massachusetts' anti-steel trap law, Joseph Higgins wanted to prove that steel traps were humane. So he snapped a trap on each of his ears and, with the traps dangling, addressed the legislative committee.

Facts About Gaucher's Disease

Recently I wrote about the spleen. I described this vital organ of the body and told how it becomes enlarged in certain inflammatory and diseases. Reference was made to "Banti's disease", in which there are inflammation and enlargement of the spleen. I have received many inquiries concerning Banti's disease.

As I write this article, I have before me a letter requesting information about "Gaucher's disease". This is a rare disease of the spleen, liver, lymph glands and bone marrow.

The sufferer shows a yellowish discoloration of the skin and eyeballs. He appears jaundiced. There is bleeding from the gums, lungs and intestinal tract. The liver and spleen gradually enlarge.

Bones Become Fragile

A characteristic sign of this disease is the ease with which black and blue marks appear on the skin. The slightest blow or pressure will result in a black and blue mark. The victim complains of pains in the bones and is very susceptible to fractures of the bones almost without external cause.

Gaucher's disease usually begins in childhood. It develops slowly and may not be noticed until the sufferer reaches an age between twenty-five and forty. Males are more susceptible to it than females. It is believed to be hereditary for it often runs in families.

At a recent medical conference this rare and unusual disease was discussed by several eminent physicians. Even now it is unfamiliar and for many years little was known concerning it.

It is now known that removal of the spleen should be performed as soon as the diagnosis of Gaucher's disease is made. The operation does not produce an absolute cure, but the progress of the disease is halted.

Symptoms of Gaucher's Disease

After the operation the patient is considerably improved. The anemia disappears and the blood begins to

Answers to Health Queries

M. B. Q.—What would cause a sharp pain in the leg? It is not steady and seems to vary from a sticking sensation to a very painful one, causing the leg to jerk when standing. Is this neuritis? Would application of heat be of benefit? I am not ill otherwise, eating and sleeping normally—and walking several blocks to and from work every day. 2. Would it be advantageous or otherwise to take—once a week? I find that if I take a mild laxative once a week it keeps me in good condition.

A.—Neuritis or rheumatism may be causing the trouble. Find the underlying cause first of all. Application of heat might be very helpful meanwhile. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. 2. Yes, this would probably be of general advantage. Proper diet would also help. # "THE LOVE TRAP"

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

"Do you mind—very much—because I've dropped around to see you?" he asked, when she came to the door.

"Yes—I'd rather you hadn't," she said frankly. "What's the good of it?"

"I've been worried and dissatisfied," he said, with a strange meekness. "Things are all balled up for me—and I want to straighten them out somehow. Carlotta told me at dinner that she'd seen you on the street, and I had a hunch that you might be living back here at your old address. Where's Steve?"

The mention of Steve's name was like pressing an electric button that flooded Mary with illumination. Landers himself was unimportant—but he gave her the excuse to talk about Steve! All of her pent-up longing, her loneliness, could find an outlet in words. Without realizing it, she had been dying for expression. She could rattle on for hours about Steve....

"Oh, he has a marvelous job in Cuba—on a sugar plantation—"

A quick flicker of surprised satisfaction crossed Landers' eyes, but Mary did not see it. Mentally to mention Steve, to put his name and his doings into words, gave her a quick interest that brought a flower-like bloom to her whole personality. Buck Landers was nothing, he was nobody—he was merely an excuse to talk about Steve.

"He's still interested in the boy," he said. "He got a rotten break from me, and it's sort of on my conscience. Tell me all about him—"

She came out of the house, and they sat on the stoop. The hum of the city, busy with its million summer-evening activities, was all around them, but Mary said and heard nothing. Her heart, her mind, were in Cuba. Landers, with an occasional question, drew forth all her information. Stimulated, she gave way to impulsiveness and he was shrewdly quiet; she confessed, even, that she was dreading the time when Eileen Calvert would be in Cuba with Steve. Oh, she was not really afraid that this former sweetheart would prove dangerous. It was just a little nagging worry.

"Wait a minute!" Landers cut in. "I told you that night at the Mortenhoff that I'd like Steve to come back and work for me—"

"No, he's definitely in the sugar business."

"Okay, but listen, Mary—don't you realize that you're a fool to leave him alone with another woman in Cuba? You say he was engaged to this Calvert girl, and she wants him back. When is she going to Cuba?"

"In a month or two."

"I said nothing for several seconds, but there was in his eyes that curious concentration that marked —had Mary been able to read him—the cunning operation of a devious mind, grappling with a delicate problem. His thoughts moved as tentatively as a cat picking its way through broken glass....

"I wouldn't go as far as to say that, with Steve, it's a case of 'out of sight, out of mind'—but you've plenty to worry about. If you only realized it. A tropical place like Cuba mixed with a beautiful girl, and a lot of hot blood, is certainly a perfect prescription for losing a sweetheart."

Like a tiny, poisoned arrow, a dart of apprehensions lithered into Mary's breast. The wound was practically painless—but she felt it. "Oh, I could trust Steve anywhere," she declared.

"Probably—but I'm just warning you, Mary. Most people would consider it a pretty dangerous situation." He looked at her warily. "Why don't you go to Cuba yourself, in a month or two? Personally, I can't understand why you let this other girl have all the advantage if you want to marry Steve."

His words had found the one treacherous opening in the stone wall that protected her happiness from all outside assaults. If she lost Steve she would die.... The mere thought of such a chance was enough to terrify her. Love for Steve was her strength—also it was her weakness, and undeniably, the bare facts of the situation were sufficient to lay open her mind to skilfully-worded suggestion. Something of her radiance began to fade. She put the beginning of a lurking fear behind her, but, even so, a bit of its chill centered around her heart.

"It would be a fairly expensive trip to Cuba," Landers said. "Can you afford it?"

"No, I can't."

"That's tough luck—it's very tough luck," Landers stated. "I'd be sorry to see you get the worst of it. I wish there was something I could do to help you."

His voice was as searching as a surgeon's scalpel, but to Mary it sounded kindly. "Oh, I don't need any help!"

"Pardon me, but I think you do. You ought to go to Cuba to protect your interests."

Cuba! The longing to see Steve welled up around her, suddenly with a tide of sharp desire. To surprise him, to feel his arms around her, to see him—how marvelous! Ah, then Eileen would be wasting her time.

"If you like, I'll give you the trip," Landers said.

His charged attitude—this unexpected kindness—seemed queer, but it touched her like a comforting hand. Her thoughts, however, were too much engrossed with Steve for her to appraise his offer.

When her whole heart was aching with a love for Steve, how easy it was for her to forgive and forget her past with Buck Landers!

"But I can't accept a trip to Cuba from you!" she told him hastily.

"Don't be ruled by foolish pride. A few hundred dollars means nothing to me."

"Oh, I can't—Steve would object frightfully."

"Steve needn't ever know. If you're a wise girl, you'll begin to plan the trip to Cuba right away."

His sympathetic words seemed flavored with wisdom. Who else in all the world would have made her such a generous offer? Still, it was almost unbelievable that Landers had become so considerate. It was a topsy-turvy world indeed!

"Why do you make me this offer?" she asked, with a remnant of suspicion.

"Because I don't want to see you unhappy. Maybe, because I've always wanted to do nice things for you, Mary. What harm is it, if I will always have a soft spot in my heart for you? When I first saw that I had lost out with you, I was furious—but now, I'm trying to learn to handle my hard luck in a different way."

He was striving to be friendly and agreeable; Mary could not find it in her nature to hold a grudge against him. Besides, she was beginning to be in a delirium of anticipation at the thought of seeing Steve in Cuba. The radiance came back into her cheeks and her heart thumped a little. Too see Steve and shield him from the machinations of Eileen! She had thought it necessary to wait a while, and now it seemed so much closer.

"If you won't accept the trip—I can lend you the money."

Her mind juggled the desire to say yes! But, there was the question of repayment of the loan—reluctantly, she decided not to accept his offer.

"Have you a little money of your own saved up?"

"Only a hundred dollars or so."

"I don't do very much for people as a rule, but I think I'll do you a favor, Mary," he said thoughtfully. "Let me take your hundred dollars and invest it in some bets on the fights at the Garden, Friday night. I happen to know of two sure things. Both are three to one shots. I'll shoot your hundred on one fight and lay your winnings on the next one. You'll have a thousand dollars free and clear Saturday morning."

A wave of excitement at the chance ran through her like electricity. Heaven had dropped a ticket to Cuba—to Steve—into her lap.

His charged attitude—this unexpected kindness—seemed queer, but it touched her like a comforting hand. Her thoughts, however, were would be held up until approved by the voters next November.

One Amendment Made
Only one amendment was made to the bill as it had been finally redrafted and approved by the Judiciary committee. That proposed by Senator Frank E. Whittemore (R) of Summit county, would reduce the salary of the executive director of the state commission from $5,000 to $4,000 a year.

Senator Carl D. Sheppard (R) of Summit county, pleading for home rule, proposed an amendment that would have reduced the membership of the state commission from seven to three members and provided for county boards of two members to issue sales permits within the counties under the bill as passed all permits would be granted by the state commission.

Another amendment which met a similar fate proposed to prohibit the sale of draught beer. Proposed by Senator D. J. Gunsett (D) of Van Wert county, it would have restricted retail sales to bottled beer.

ARRANGING THE HALL BEAUTIFUL

Here are Some Ideas for Furnishing the Home Entrance

Some time ago, this department carried an article dealing with the decoration and arrangement of the hall. Before me now are a number of requests from readers for more ideas for beautifying the hall. As it happens, I have lately been fortunate enough to visit houses whose first glimpse showed particularly inviting halls, a delightful introduction to delightful homes. Which is just what a hall should be. None of the halls I saw had very revolutionary or modernistic treatment. All were homey, yet with an original note or touch that made the space, however small, very important. And sometimes the space that had been allotted to the hall by the architect or builder was small. But a woman who is artistic will utilize the space and do away with any cramped look.

Fitting Out the Small Hall

For the small hall, then, plain colors are essential, both for the walls and floor covering. One delightful hall, has its woodwork and that of the stairway, painted a lovely Madonna-blue. The carpet, both for hall and stairs, is a dark gray, the walls are deep ivory and the effect is lovely. The principal piece of furniture is an antique oak chest—it looks antique, but really is a good reproduction. In its capacious interior is stored a great many things that can be easily found. On it is a lovely copper vase filled with flowers, many of them catching the blue tint of the color scheme, with much yellow to complement the ivory tone used on the walls.

If the hall is big enough, an extra set of shelves or a small open book case will take care of overflow books and give a living room air to it. If chairs are used, they should be narrow and high backed, as these backs are so decorative, without filling the hall. And then, too, an extra chest of drawers, a lowboy or a highboy, will prove decorative and useful. It can be quite a decorative piece, too, if you shop round for one, and its extra storage space is useful, too. The majority of halls that I have noticed lately, all had mirrors, good big mirrors that not only allowed one to get a last-minute glance at oneself.

Fire Hits Conneaut

Mail Goes Through

SANDUSKY, O., March 28.—Airplane mail service to residents of Put-in-Bay, Kelley's Island and other Lake Erie islands has not been interrupted for a single day this winter, post office officials said. Boats will resume carrying the mail April 1, ending the four-month plane service.

New U. S. Ambassador to Britain Well Known in London Society

Judge Bingham, Wealthy Kentuckian, Noted for His Independence in Politics. Popularity in England Aroused Opposition in Congress.

*JUDGE ROBERT W. BINGHAM

When Judge Robert Worth Bingham, of Louisville, Ky., goes to London as United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James he will be treading on familiar ground. For the Judge has been a frequent visitor to the English capital for many years and is very popular in society circles there. It is believed to have been Bingham's popularity across the water that inspired opposition to his appointment by a small party in Congress. Judge Bingham has long been one of the outstanding figures in Kentucky politics. Though usually Democratic in his leanings, he used the influence he held as controller of the two largest newspapers in Louisville to criticize or praise the policies of both major parties according to how he believed they deserved to be treated. He gave ardent support to Mr. Roosevelt in the Presidential campaign. Bingham was born in North Carolina in 1871 and is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. The public offices he has held include that of Jefferson County Attorney, Mayor of Louisville and Chancellor of Jefferson Circuit Court. He has been married three times. His first wife, Eleanor E. Miller, whom he married in 1896, was killed in an automobile accident. His second wife, Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, widow of the man who did much to develop the State of Florida, died in 1917, leaving Judge Bingham $5,000,000. In 1924, Mr. Bingham married Mrs. Byron Hilliard, daughter of an old Kentucky family.

. . . India Contained Not One-Tenth of the Items Gathered Under the Roofs of Salem's Department Stores

The love of endless variety in new things has proved the motive power prompting discovery throughout the ages. Isabella, Queen of Spain, sold her precious jewels to aid Columbus in his effort to discover a new trade route to India. Believing that such a discovery would place untold riches in merchandise at the disposal of the Spanish nation.

Instead a new world was found.

Yet even Columbus' discoveries of merchandise of the new world never encompassed one-tenth of the items gathered under the roofs of Salem department stores. Here you will find silks from China and Japan . . . rugs from far flung desert looms of Persia and Turkey . . . gold and precious jewels from India and South Africa . . . woolens and pottery from England and France . . . lace from Belgium . . . and countless items of rich and wondrous beauty brought together from the far corners of the earth for your approval and selection and future enjoyment.

These mammoth organizations are not unlike small empires. Their armies of merchants, buyers and salespeople closely watch the horoscope of public desire — sensing and responding to every taste — every fashion — every so-called fad.

Their courteous, skilled attention and tireless efforts to serve and please you. . . the modest remuneration asked for their merchandise . . . the palatial buildings in which their wares are housed for your comfort and convenience . . . denote the thoughtfulness and concerted effort continually at work make your buying a genuine pleasure. Is it any wonder that Salem department stores are numbered among the country's finest?

Salem department stores are your logical trading centers. Support and appreciate them as they deserve.

Youthful Pitchers Add Strength To American League Ball Clubs

Reserve Fielder Seen As Big Need of Tribe For Pennant Campaign

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 28.—The prospective freshman pitching class for the 1933 Major league pennant season looks to be much more strongly represented in the American league than the National on the basis of training camp developments.

Every American league club has at least one good young pitching recruit, primed for the big test. As many as six newcomers may make the grade in the National League.

Sensors, Yanks Have Stars
Washington and New York each developed an outstanding freshman last year and may duplicate the feat. The Senators will be extremely lucky if big Ed Link, the strikeout king, follows the successful footsteps of Prof. Monte Weaver, who won 22 games last year, but the Yankees appear quite confident that Don Brennan from Newark, will prove as effective as was Johnny Allen, a 1932 sensation.

The world champions have two other great prospects in Russell Van Atta southpaw, and Marvin Duke, right hander. Each won 23 games in the minors last year. Van Atta with St. Paul and Duke with Erie, Pa.

Bucky Harris believes he has the prize pitching rookie of them all, however, in Lynwood Rowe, pronounced ready to become a Major league regular after winning 19 games with Beaumont in the Texas league. Rowe, only 21, is a youthful giant, 6 feet 4 inches and weighing 205 pounds.

Claret With A's
Connie Mack expects big Gowell Olaset, a southpaw obtained from Montreal, to land a reserve job with his A's and may also keep Bill Dietrich. From Portland, Ore. Cleveland regards the former University of Iowa southpaw, Forrest Twogood as a fixture and will give Belve Bean a thorough test.

Walter Brown, bought from Montreal by the Red Sox, and Jack Knott, taken from Milwaukee by the St. Louis Browns, appear to have clinched big league jobs. The White Sox may keep either George Murray, who won 23 for Dallas, or Clarence Felber, southpaw.

Few Rookies In National
The only National league pitching recruit who came up definitely tagged as a stayer is Walter Beck, big right-hander of Brooklyn. The outstanding surprise is Ed Falkenstein of the Boston Braves. Having once had a trial with the Phillies, Falkenstein isn't exactly a novice but his professional experience is brief.

Having once had a trial with the Phillies, Falkenstein isn't exactly a novice but his professional experience is brief.

The Cubs hope to get much needed southpaw assistance from Beryl Richmond, obtained from Baltimore. The Phillies have a good prospect in Frank Pearce, right hander. The Pirates have pair of former Kansas City hurlers, Ralph Birkofer, and Harold Smith, with chances to stick.

Unless Alfred Smith, a southpaw, makes the grade, the Giants will have no freshmen in the box and neither will the Reds or Cardinals.

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—Give Roger Peckinpaugh one good utility outfielder and the Cleveland Indians can duel against the best in the American league.

The club is well fixed in all other quarters but an injury in the outfield would cause a situation that makes Peck shudder. Indian scouts

Winner of Grand National

An excellent action photo of "Kellsboro Jack," American-owned winner of the English Grand National Steeplechase, made as he was prepared for the big race. The horse, owned by Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark (inset), of New York and London, started at 40-1 and out-ran and out-jumped a field of 34 to score the first victory for an American-owned horse since 1926. "Really True" ran second with "Slater" a close third.

From Southern Camps

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—Frank Pytlak, lively little rookie from Buffalo, gives every indication of soon being ready to take a regular catching assignment with the Cleveland Indians.

Manager Roger Peckinpaugh said only a few days ago all he wanted to know was whether Pytlak could hit consistently enough to hold a first string job.

BRADENTON. Fielding errors are making tough going for the St. Louis Cardinals in their exhibition games. Two bobbles were the major factor in their 4-6 defeat yesterday by the Athletics, and miscues also had proved costly in earlier games.

WEST PALM BEACH. Oscar Melillo, second baseman for the St. Louis Browns, had done most of his good hitting in odd-numbered years, and his slugging in exhibition games indicates he may keep up the habit in 1933. He hasn't gone hitless in any game so far.

WEST PALM BEACH. William Watson Clark, one of the most efficient southpaws in the National league, seems set for another big season with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Clark pitched six innings yesterday against the St. Louis Browns and allowed only one hit.

SAN ANTONIO. Travis (Stony) Jackson, veteran shortstop of the New York Giants, insists his famous knees are all right but his well-wishers are beginning to feel a bit perturbed over his continuing inactivity.

However, the fact remains he has played in only two exhibition games so far once as a pinch hitter.

ST. PETERSBURG.—There are signs now that Joe McCarthy, manager of the world champion New York Yankees, has turned to Bill Werber as the possible answer to his shortstop problem. Lyn Lary and Frank Crosetti alternated at the post last season with neither any too consistent.

TAMPA.—After an inglorious 16 to 3 lacing from the Yankees, Cincinnati's Reds sought today to save their feelings with another victory over the Boston Braves. Ray Kolp and Bennie Frey, were slated for mound duty today. Rixey, Johnson and Ogen saw their offerings slammed severely by the Yankees, while the infield was far from measuring up to its performances of the season.

Salem Scouts Win Tourney Laurels
Salem Boy Scout Troop No. 31 won runner-up honors in the sectional Boy Scout basketball tournament held Monday at Sebring.

Winning first two games, the Salem troop advanced into the finals where they were defeated for the title by Sebring Eagle Scouts.

The team was awarded a trophy runner-up while Jack Kerr received a medal for winning high-scoring honors.

Billie Litty, Jones, McLaughlin and Laughton are other members of the squad.

Wrestling Results
NEW YORK.—Jim Browning, 230, Verona, Mo., threw Sam Cordovano, 262, New York, 31-43.

CAMDEN, N. J.—Fred Grubmier, 205, Iowa, won by default from Frank Judson, 208, Boston, 61-29.

LANCASTER, Pa.—Trnie Dusek, 214, Omaha, threw John Maxos, 208, Chicago, 42-12.

CHICAGO.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, 265, Los Angeles, threw Leon Pinetzi, 350, Poland, 23-45.

OMAHA.—Bronko Nagurski, 223, Minneapolis, threw George Deek, 203, Esterville, Ia., 15-00.

LONDON, Ont.—Sandor Szabo, 208, Hungary, and George Zarynof, 202, Ukraina, drew.

Victory for Eli

Karl D. Warner, of Yale University A. A., is pictured as he broke the tape to win the "Casey 600" at the Knights of Columbus games at Madison Square Garden, New York. Warner's time was 1:12 1/10. Edgar Blake, of Boston A. A. finished a close second.

ALLIANCE CAGE TEAM TO MEET ORPHANS CLUB

Pennzip Merchants Face Cuyahoga Falls In Prelim Wednesday

SACHSEN LOOP FOES TO CLASH SATURDAY

New Castle, Alliance To Vie For Title At Salem High Gym

More basketball will be the attraction at Memorial building and Salem High school courts this week with contests scheduled at the former gymnasium. Wednesday night while a Penn-Ohio German league championship clash is scheduled on the latter Saturday night.

Alliance Plays Here
A team of all-star Alliance players, including Larry Russell and other Aviator luminaries, will oppose the championship Sanders Orphans in the main game of the Wednesday night card at the Memorial gym.

Pennzip Merchants, winners of the city league girls' league crown, face the strong Cuyahoga Falls team in the prelim. Salem Community Merchants tackle New Castle, Pa., in the first game at 7:30.

The Salem Junior Sachsen club is sponsoring the titular battle between New Castle, Pa., and Alliance Sachsen at the school gymnasium Saturday night. The two rivals now share first place in the Penn-Ohio German loop with the winner of the battle here being crowned as champion.

Girls Play In Prelim
Alliance previously held first place, while New Castle was in second place, but the two became tied for high honors as the result of a decision of the league's board of protest, which met in the local Sachsenheim Sunday, in which Alliance forfeited one of the games which it had previously won. This necessitates a deciding game on a neutral floor.

As a preliminary to this game, Salem Saxons ladies will meet the Youngstown Saxon girls, both of whom have played in the girls' division of the same league during the past season.

The games will be played at the Salem High School gym with two prominent officials, one from Alliance and one from New Castle, in charge. The girls' game will begin at 7, while the struggle for supremacy in the Saxon league will begin at 8.

Burkle Arranges Gridiron Schedule

BOARDMAN, March 28.—Boardman High will face South High of Youngstown in its opening game of the 1933 football schedule, Coach Clarence "Buck" Burkle of Columbiana announced today.

A nine-game schedule practically the same as last season has been arranged. The only change being that Struthers has been replaced by Lisbon, a member of the Tri-County league. Games will be played with five other league opponents. They are Minerva, Sebring, Columbiana, Louisville and East Palestine.

Last season Boardman finished in fifth place in the Tri-County league winning two, losing two and tying one contest. For the entire season, the eleven won three, lost five and tied one.

Set New Record

An Olympic swimmer at 15, Ralph Flanagan has added still another laurel to his imposing wreath by clipping a second and a half from the 400-yard free style world's record at Coral Gables, Fla. He is shown after he had accomplished the feat. Flanagan was the youngest member ever to win a place on the American men's Olympic team, when he participated in the international games last summer.

As "Ring Clown" Retained Title

Although he has been called the "Clown Prince" of the ring owing to his refusal to train seriously for his fights, Maxie Rosenbloom, of New York, light heavyweight champion of the world, proved himself too good for Bob Goodwin, of Daytona Beach, Fla., in their title bout at Madison Square Garden, New York. Here is Goodwin on the floor in the first round after Maxie had slapped him down. The referee stopped the bout in the fourth stanza because of serious gashes about Goodwin's eyes. Rosenbloom was awarded a technical knockout.

QUAKERS INVADE LISBON GRIDIRON

LISBON, March 28.—Lisbon will invade Toronto at the opening of the 1933 football season. The game is scheduled on September 15.

The schedule, as announced by Coach Philip Bickle, calls for 11 contests. The only noticeable change is that the annual Lisbon-Salem game will be played at Lisbon instead of Reilly stadium as has been the custom other years.

Coach Bickle should be able to produce a good team next season, as there will be seven letter men back. They are: Eddie James, Thomas Bruce, Ralph Vanaman, Fred Springer, Robert Smith, Paul Alexander, and Lawrence Campsey.

The schedule:
Sept. 15.—At Toronto.

Seroka Kayoes Foe In Sebring Fight

Seroka is a stablemate of Wilbur West, both fighting under the management of David Martingell.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

Preliminary to the actual moving quarters for NBC engineering already have been established in Radio City.

While the complete occupancy date has not been set and at present is expected to come in the late fall, a group of engineers whose duties center around studio construction already are at the future address of the chain.

Tibbett will be replaced the first week by Kay Swift, song writer, and thereafter by a national opera concert series. Whiteman's time has been allotted to a revival of the war drama serial "K-T".

The Josef Lhevinne piano recitals on WEAF-NBC for the next two weeks are to include a number of duets. Mrs. Lhevinne is to join her husband on the air.

Warden Lawes' daughter, 11-year-old Joan Marie, who already has been in the movies, is to appear in one of her daddy's programs on

Kidnapers' Victim and His Mother

Above is 15-year-old Peter Myers, Jr., shown with his mother, Mrs. Rose Myers, in their home at Masury, O., after the boy had spent eight days in the hands of kidnapers. The father, a tavern keeper, said he paid $300 ransom to obtain his son's release.

Stanwyck Film Scheduled; "State Fair" Closes Today

BARBARA STANWYCK in a new type of role and with a new leading man will make her appearance in "Ladies They Talk About" at the State theater screen on Wednesday. The film will also be seen Thursday.

Jack Pearl in Comedy
There will be an attractive addition to the bill in the form of a two-reel comedy starring "Baron Munchausen", the "vas you dere Sharley" fellow. The "Baron", of course, is Jack Pearl. Preston S. Postel is Miss Stanwyck's new leading man. You've probably seen him before but never as a hero. He played in "I Am A Fugitive", "Doctor X" and "You Said A Mouthful".

Play Girl Bandit
Miss Stanwyck, after a seige of "sister-of-the-evil" roles as in "So Big" and "The Purchase Price" becomes a bold, hard hearted crook in this picture. As the cool bandit she assists in a large bank robbery, makes love to the evangelist to secure his sympathy so he might help her at the penitentiary, assists in the attempted escape of two prisoners and "goes-religious" in order to seek revenge from the evangelist. It is not until this young man refuses to reveal to police that Miss Stanwyck has shot him that she realizes that it is he that is the strong and smart one and not she.

Cast Is Grand
There are Will Rogers, Louise Dresser, Janet Gaynor, Norman Foster, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Victor Jory and Frank Craven and each does his or her role so very well it is impossible to attempt to pick the star.

Lew Ayres A sincere, simple story with all the romance and comedy that goes for making a real film. The picture catches the hurly-burly atmosphere about the fair and moves with beautifully regulated tempo. Never a dry moment, always interesting, it holds its audience from the beginning to the end—yet there is no real suspense or thrill, nor is there a villain. It is just that the doings of this interesting Frake family become the very plot itself. Such films as this should go far into bringing prosperity back to the theater.

WANTS MORE BABIES
MUSSOLINI'S PLAN
PLENTY OF SHOES

By Arthur Brisbane

MIAMI Fla. — Mussolini, constructive dictator, tells mothers and fathers of Italy, also young men and women not yet married, that he wants Italy's population increased in the next 10 years by 17,000,000. In other words, a country much smaller than California, far behind California in fertility and wealth of every kind, already possessing nearly 10 times the population of California, proposes to add in 10 years four times California's population to what Italy has already.

Some Italian cities offer cash rewards for marriages, others rewards for babies, houses, cribs, bedding, sums in cash, many inducements attract "the first 10 brides and grooms, the first 50 babies, etc."

WISE Mussolini, knows that the real wealth of the world is intelligent population, and that he will find room and useful work for the 7,000,000 new Italians when they come. The most energetic will go to Italy's possessions in Africa, and elsewhere outside Italy. Others will cultivate new lands that Mussolini has added to limited Italian territory by draining marshes. All the additional 17,000,000 Italians will be made useful as rapidly as Mussolini gets them.

A TRAIN coming from the north to this city yesterday passed through thousands of acres of fertile, unworked land. Here and there north and south of the Florida border, were traces of fires; here and there miserable huts, in each of them a colored family, with a mule and a small plow, trying to make a living from low-priced cotton.

You saw thousands of acres of mutilated pine trees, a gash in each one, securing a few ounces of turpentine.

On those lands that lie idle, and will remain idle under our present immigration laws for 500 years to come, would it not be better to have happy working families, adding to the country's wealth, consuming at fair prices the American wheat, automobiles, cotton, sewing machines and other products?

We have many kinds of stupidity in the United States, and the most harmful is forbidding intelligent ambitious men and women to come here from Europe, as our ancestors came.

LEGISLATURE HIGHLIGHTS

Thumbnail sketch of activities in the legislature:
Passed by the senate, 5 to 6, the Ackerman beer bill is scheduled for house vote tomorrow.

If the house approves the emergency clause, voted by the senate, the measure will become effective upon signature by Gov. White.

Both houses adopted a conference report on the Ward bill fixing the percentage of votes required for approval of bond issues to finance municipally-owned utilities. As a result the percentage will remain unchanged at 60.

Gov. White vetoed a bill which would amend the movie censorship laws.

Two house-approved administration bills were on today's senate calendar. They would transfer the bureau of motor vehicles from the secretary of state's office to the highway department and create a highway patrol. A vote on the Emmons bills to legalize horse race betting was scheduled in the house. It has passed the senate.

Lincoln's Advice to You

In these days of our country's crisis, it is well to consider the teachings and precepts of that man whose wisdom saved our nation in the sixties.

Lincoln, time and time again, urged thrift—not alone for the nation, but for the individual as well.

Starting as a poor boy, he knew, if anyone, the heights to which a person may rise by industry and thrift.

In these unusual days this bank can aid you in getting ahead. Keep your account at this bank growing.
